

Water Canvas Painting

Materials:

- Kodo Water Canvas
- Water
- Cups
- Paint Brushes

Kodo's Water Canvas is the perfect activity for a hot summer day at the beginning of the school year. This temporary painting surface keeps children engaged indoors or out. Children will love watching their designs slowly dry and disappear, leaving space for new designs to be created.

Support shape, number, or letter recognition. Create a game out of recognizing shapes, numbers, or letters or encourage children to write their own names.

Look and Listen for Learning

- Creativity
- Curiosity
- Material Properties
- Use of Tools

Teaching Tips

- This is a great activity to offer indoors at the art studio area or outdoors in a quiet area on the playground.
- Give consideration to how you layout this activity. Will the spots for each child to sit be facing one another, facing toward a window to allow of observation of nature, or in a circle to encourage socialization? Try multiple setups and see what benefits they each offer.